CHAPTER V.

A YOUNG man in the uniform of a British naval lieutenant leaped in front of the girl with drawn sword, with which he laid about him lustily, striking some of the men with the flat of it, threatening others with the point, and, backing his actions by the prompt commands of one not accustomed to be gainsaid, he soon cleared the space in front of her.

"How dare you interfere in this matter, my lord?" shouted Johnson passionately. "I command this party, and I intend—"

"I know you do," replied the officer, "and that I am only a volunteer who has chosen to accompany you, worse luck! But I am a gentleman and a lieutenant in his Britannic majesty's navy, and, by heaven, when I see old men mishandled, and wounded helpless men about to be assassinated, and young women insulted, I don't care who commands the party, I interfere! And I don't propose to bawdy words with any runagate American partisan who uses his commission to further private vengeance. And I swear to you, on my honor, if you do not instantly modify your treatment of this gentleman and call off this ragamuffin crew, you shall be court-martialed, if I have any influence with Dunmore or Parker or Lord Howe, or whoever is in authority, and I will have the rest of you hung as high as Haman. This is outrage and robbery and murder. It is not fighting or making prisoners," continued the young officer. "You are not fit to be an officer, and you, you curs, you disgrace the uniform you wear."

Johnson glanced at his men, who stood irresolute before him, fiercely muttering. A rasally mob of the lowest class of people in the colony, to whom war simply meant opportunity for plunder and rapine, they would undoubtedly back up their leader in their present mood of attempt at resistance he might make the young officer. But he hesitated a moment. Desborough was a lord, high in the confidence of Governor Dunmore, and a man of great influence. His own position was too precarious, the game was not worth the candle, and the risk of opposition was too great.

"Well," he said in sulky acquiescence, "the men meant no special harm, but have it your own way! Fall back, men! As to what you say to me personally, you shall answer to me for that at a more fitting time," he continued doggedly.

"When and where you please," answered Desborough hotly, "though I'd sell a sword by passing it through you. What was Dunmore thinking of when he put you in charge of this party and sent you to do this work, I wonder? Give your orders to your men to unhand this gentleman instantly. You will give your parole, sir? I regret that we are compelled to secure your person, but those were the orders, and you, madam," turning to Katharine, "I believe no order requires you to be taken prisoner, and therefore you shall go free."

But Katharine had knelt down by her prostrate lover as soon as the space in front of her had been cleared and was entirely oblivious to all that was taking place about her.

"Allow me to introduce myself, colonel," he resumed. "I am Lord Desborough. I have often heard my father, the Earl of Desmond, in Ireland, speak of you. I regret that we meet under such unpleasant circumstances, but the governor's orders must be carried out, though I wish he had sent a more worthy representative to do so. I will see, however, that everything is done for your comfort in the future."

"Sir," said the colonel, bowing, "you have rendered me a service I can never repay. I know your father well. He is one of the finest gentlemen of his time, and his son has this day shown that he is worthy of the honored name he bears. I will go with you cheerfully, and you have my parole of honor. Katharine, you are free; you will be safe in the house, I think, until I can arrange for your departure."

She looked up from the floor and then rose. "Oh, father, he is dead; he is dead," she moaned. "Yes, I will go with you. Take me away."

"Nay, my child, I cannot," "Enough of this!" broke in the sneering voice of Johnson. "She has been taken in open resistance to the king's forces, and warrant or no warrant, orders or no orders, or court martial or otherwise, this with a malevolent glance at Desborough, "she goes with us as a prisoner."

"I will pledge my word, Colonel Wilton, that no violence is offered her," exclaimed Desborough promptly, and then, turning to Katharine: "Trust me, madam."

"I do, sir," she said faintly, giving him her hand. "You are very kind." "It is nothing, mistress," he replied, bowing low over it as he raised it respectfully to his lips. "I will hold you safe with my life."

"Very pretty," sneered Johnson. "But are you coming?" "What shall we do with these two, captain?" asked the sergeant, kicking the prostrate form of Seymour and pointing to the body of the man who had been slain.

"Oh, let them lie there! We can't be bothered with dead and dying men. One of them is gone; the other soon will be. The slaves will bury them and those other three at the foot of the hill. D'y'e hear, ye black niggers? There's hardly room enough on the sloop for the living," he continued, with cynical indifference.

by his side, "must I leave you now, on my love?" she moaned, taking his hand in her arms and with her handkerchief wiping the blood from off his forehead. "And you have died for me—for me!"

The colonel saw the action, and knew now what was the subject of the interview after supper which Seymour had so much desired. He knelt down beside his daughter, a great pity for her in his soul, and laid his hand on her prostrate man's heart.

"He is not dead, Katharine," he whispered. "I do not even think he will die; he will be all right in an hour. If we don't go soon, Katharine, Philip and Bentley will return and be taken also," he continued rapidly. "Come, Katharine," he said more loudly, rising. "Dearest child, we must go—you must bear this, my daughter; it is for our country we suffer." But the talismanic word apparently had lost its charm for her.

"What's all this?" said Johnson roughly. She must go. She only moaned and pressed her lover's hands against her heart.

"And go now! Do you hear? Come, mistress," laying his hand roughly upon her shoulder.

"Have a care, sir," said Desborough warningly.

"Keep to yourself, my dear sir; no harm is done. But we must go, and if she won't go willingly she will have to be carried, that's all. Do you hear me? Come on!"

"What's all this?"

"Come, Katharine," said the colonel entreatingly.

"Oh, father, father, I cannot leave him! I love him!"

"I know you do, dear, and worthy he is of your love too. Please God, you shall see him once again! But now we must go. Will you not come with me?"

"I cannot, I cannot," she repeated.

"But you must, Kate," said the colonel, lifting her up, in deadly anxiety to get away before his son returned. "You are a prisoner."

"I can't, father; indeed I can't!" she cried again.

She struggled a moment, then half fainting in his arms.

"Who else is here?" said Johnson.

"Only the slaves," replied the colonel.

"Well, we don't want them. Move on, then! Your daughter can take her maid with her if she wishes," he said, with surly courtesy. "Is this the way? Well, get your mistress a cloak and be quick about it!"

Assisted by Chloe, the maid, and Lord Desborough, the colonel half carried, half led, his daughter out of the room.

"Seymour, Seymour!" she cried despairingly at the door, but he lay still where he had fallen, seeing and hearing nothing.

Claims Self-Defense.

East St. Louis, Ill., June 9.—Ben Garrett, twenty-three years of age, was arrested at the National stockyards on the charge of having killed Mrs. Maria Cantatecos at Berden, I. T., on May 28. After he had been taken to the police station he admitted his identity and confessed that he had killed the woman, but he claimed that he did so in self-defense.

A STATE OF WAR

That Is the Only Way to Describe the Cripple Creek Situation.

HAD A PITCHED BATTLE

Miners and Soldiers Came Together at Dunnville in a Desperate and Deadly Encounter.

One Man Was Killed and Fourteen Taken Prisoners—Martial Law Is Declared.

Victor, Col., June 9.—A pitched battle between the military and union miners was fought at Dunnville, the new mining camp, thirteen miles out of Victor, last evening. John Carley, a union miner, was killed. The troops returned to Victor, bringing with them fourteen captives.

It was reported before the special train left Victor for Dunnville, bearing the force under General Bell, that the miners in the hills about Dunnville numbered about 250 men and that it was their intention to march into Victor in a body and attempt to liberate by force the inmates of the temporary bull-pen in Victor. That the force actually consisted of but twenty-one men is the statement of one of the number that was taken captive.

The train proceeded to the immediate vicinity of Dunnville without unusual incident. When about a quarter of a mile distant from the Dunnville temporary station, the officers could see the camp of the miners. It included one cabin and six or seven tents. The officers left the train at the command of General Bell and prepared to advance on the camp of the unionists in regular skirmish order. As they emerged from the cut in which the train had come to a stop they were greeted with a volley of shots which came from the points of vantage surrounding the hills.

Deputies returned the fire to the best advantage possible, and promiscuous shooting was engaged in for a period of ten minutes. From the character of the shooting from the hills General Bell immediately recognized the fact that the strength of the miners had been greatly over-estimated and that he had sufficient force under his command to make an immediate round-up and capture the entire opposing force. Accordingly he divided the deputies and soldiers into seven detachments and these set out to make a complete clean-up of all the surrounding hills. Fourteen men were taken prisoners. A second battle took place later in the night. Seven soldiers sent on horseback to Big Hill, two miles east of Victor, to arrest union miners, found them entrenched. The men refused to surrender, and the soldiers opened fire. Over 200 shots were fired. The miners opened fire on the soldiers as soon as they saw them coming up the hill. No one was wounded. Seven men were captured by the guards and taken to Cripple Creek. Intense excitement again reigns here.

Fair Trial Guaranteed.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 9.—General Bell has appointed a commission to try all prisoners. "The prisoners will be treated fairly," said General Bell. "It is not my desire to inflict upon any of them punishment that they do not deserve, and as fast as this is practicable they will be sent away or placed in the class that will be held indefinitely. I intend that every man innocent of the crimes that have been perpetrated in the district shall go free, and everyone who is guilty shall be punished. I intend to have matters in shape within a few hours so that every business house and every mine in the district can open and proceed with business unmolested."

Factions Tired Out.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 9.—Teller county is once more under martial law and the military is in supreme command. Declaration of military rule has already had a salutary effect. All factions in the camp are tired of the long-drawn-out controversy, and are planning a settlement.

Another Side of It.

New York, June 9.—When Hannah Elias, the negroes under arrest for extortion, goes on the witness stand in her own defense Friday she will tell, it is expected, a story of how she was blackmailed for years and how threats of the relations between herself and John R. Platt drew thousands of dollars from her, a great part of which money Platt furnished, knowing for what it was to be used. Following her testimony two warrants will probably be issued for persons who rendered professional services to the negro, one of them a physician and the other a lawyer.

To Enforce Wage Scale.

Chicago, June 9.—Two-thirds of the 205 boiler-makers employed in the various shops of the Illinois Central system are on strike to enforce a minimum wage scale of 42½ cents an hour.

The Fifteenth Victim.

Peoria, Ill., June 9.—Adam Weiner who was injured in the explosion, which wrecked Corning's distillery Saturday, is dead of his injuries. This makes the total number of dead fifteen

ATTENDANCE LIMITED

Not All Hoosiers Who Want to Can Get into Big Convention.

Indianapolis, June 9.—It is being freely predicted now that the attendance of Indianians at the Republican national convention at Chicago will be very meager compared with the number that usually attends such events. In the face of the probability of Senator Fairbanks being nominated for vice president these predictions are somewhat surprising, yet a careful investigation of the situation seems to give some color of truth to them. It is very likely that many more would arrange to go if they were assured they could get in, but it is the understanding now that Indiana will receive but 100 tickets aside from the two that each of the thirty delegates will receive. This for a state brimful of politicians and for a state that may be honored with second place is not a drop in the bucket. The hall in which the convention will be held is small and the announcement is being made from day to day that the allotment of tickets will have to be small. However, it is very likely that Indiana will have several hundred enthusiastic men on the ground.

A story in one of the local papers here under a New York date line to the effect that Senator Wolcott of Colorado has been selected to deliver the speech placing Senator Fairbanks' name before the Republican national convention for the nomination for vice president has been promptly denied by United States District Attorney Joseph B. Kealing and others who are very close to Senator Fairbanks. Kealing says there is absolutely no truth in the report. If there was it would mean that the senator has decided to go after the nomination, which is not the truth. The New York story also stated that Senator Beveridge was to second the nomination of Senator Fairbanks. If the latter was a candidate in any sense it is very likely that Senator Beveridge, as his colleague, would be selected to deliver the nominating speech. Senator Beveridge, it is reported, will deliver one of the speeches seconding the nomination of President Roosevelt.

There is now considerable discussion among the Indiana Democratic leaders as to who should be nominated for vice president, and it seems to be the consensus of opinion that some Illinois man should be given second place. Owing to the bitter fight among the Republicans in nominating their candidate for governor and the disaffection among the enormous army of workmen at Chicago and other big centers the Democrats are now confident that Illinois in spite of its big Republican vote will be fighting ground. In fact many of the leading Democrats here believe that Illinois and not Indiana will be the principal battle-ground of the West, and for this reason there has been but little talk of putting up some Hoosier for second place. Some time ago an attempt was made to start a boom for John E. Lamb of Terre Haute and B. F. Shively of South Bend, but it was short lived. One hears considerable favorable mention here now of Congressman Williams of Illinois for vice president, but lately there has been a turn in favor of Marshall Field, the millionaire Chicago merchant. Last winter the veteran editor, John B. Stoll of South Bend, started a boom for Field for president and it aroused much favorable comment. But now it looks as if Judge Parker or some Eastern man is to be nominated for president, the party leaders are turning to the West for vice presidential timber and the name of Field is taking well. It is believed, from the tone of the talk here, that Indiana Democrats would be well satisfied with Field.

No Evidence of Foul Play.

Muncie, Ind., June 9.—Although the official inquest into the death of Miss Artie Monk, the telephone operator who died Sunday under what appeared to be mysterious circumstances, has not yet been completed, it may be stated that no poison was found in the girl's stomach, and that Solomon Lee, who is still in jail pending the completion of the inquiry, will be released. All recent evidence seems to indicate that death was caused by nervous prostration, brought on by a quarrel with her lover.

Serious Fire at Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—Damage estimated at $400,000 was caused by a fire which last night destroyed the seven-story building at 54-60 South Canal street, known as Machinery hall. The building, which was owned by Alderman W. F. Maypole and John Jacob Maypole, was occupied by several firms of manufacturing machinists. The fire was in a district occupied solely by large manufacturing establishments and warehouses and for a time a general conflagration was feared.

Didn't Know What He Was Doing.

Shelbyville, Ind., June 9.—Eugene Dase, who broke into the St. Vincent school Monday night and attacked one of the sisters, pleaded guilty before Judge Morris and was sentenced to the Indiana reformatory for an indeterminate night. He said he was drunk on Monday night and did not remember what he did at that time.

Jealousy Causes Murder.

Cincinnati, June 9.—Julius Meinspeck, aged sixty-one, shot and killed Mary Downey, aged forty-three, and then shot himself at the home of the latter here last night. The woman died almost instantly, while Meinspeck's wounds are only slight. Jealousy is believed to have been the cause of the shooting.

JAPS CUT CABLE

Decisive Action at Port Arthur Proceeding in Absolute Secrecy.

THE OUTSIDE WORLD

Is Kept in Suspense While History-Making Operations in Besieged Port Are in Progress.

Russian War Department Says Important News May Be Expected in Two Days.

Mukden, June 9.—According to information here a Japanese squadron of nine vessels has been bombarding the coast between Shung Yu Cheng and Kai Chou on the west coast of the Liao Tung peninsula just below New Chwang, since June 7.

Liao Yang, June 9.—The Japanese, according to Chinese reports, made several sustained and stubborn attacks on Port Arthur simultaneously by land and sea. They were repulsed with severe loss. The position of the Japanese in Kwang Tung is said to be precarious. There are rumors from the same sources that the Vladivostok squadron has effected a junction with the Port Arthur fleet, that a naval battle took place and that the Japanese lost four large ships.

London, June 9.—The sudden interruption of the cable between Korea and Japan is considered significant of the imminence of important operations at Port Arthur, the Japanese having taken precaution, as usual, to cut the only means of communication with the outside world and thus enable her naval and military forces to work with absolute secrecy.

No attention is paid in London to rumors that the storming of the fortress has already begun, because it is known that at the battle of Kin Chau, General Oku had exhausted his ammunition and an inefficient period had elapsed during which the stores of ammunition can be renewed and siege guns brought into position. It is understood likely that Admiral Togo is not averse to Port Arthur wasting its ammunition in constant encounters with the gunboats. This may explain the rumored bombardments, while the firing on the land side may be due to preliminary operations having for their purpose the driving in of the Russian forces.

Chinese Bring News.

Che Foo, June 9.—The Chinese, both merchants and coolies, are leaving Port Arthur with the permission of the Russian authorities. Fifty Junk which left Port Arthur yesterday with Chinese passengers are now arriving here. The reports of the latest arrivals vary in minor details, but agree in a general statement that a battle has been raging for four days within ten miles of Port Arthur. All the Russian soldiers have, it is stated, left Port Arthur for the front and only three large ships and a number of small ones remain in the harbor.

Early Advances Expected.

St. Petersburg, June 9.—One of the most prominent officials of the war office says that important news from the front is expected within three days.

Alleged Forger Taken.

New York, June 9.—Thomas F. Kennedy, alias William H. Warren, who, the police allege, is a member of the noted Knox-Whitman band of forgers, was arrested here on a charge of forgery, preferred by the American Banking association. The prisoner is charged with having raised a draft of $10 to $10,000. He waived examination and was remanded to the Tombs.

Convention Orators Selected.

Washington, June 9.—It was officially announced today that the following persons have been selected to make the speeches seconding the nomination of President Roosevelt at Chicago: Senator Beveridge, Indiana; George A. Knight, California; Harry Stillwell Edwards, Georgia; Joseph B. Cotton, Minnesota; Harry S. Cummings, Maryland.

Women's International Congress.

Berlin, June 9.—Mrs. May Wright Sewall of Indianapolis responded in German to the welcome extended to the foreign delegates to the women's international congress. Baroness Alexandra Gripenberg presented Miss Susan B. Anthony with a wreath in the name of the Finnish women.

British Government Going After Facts as to Congo Horrors.

London, June 9.—The correspondence relating to the administration of the Congo independent state was issued last evening. It contains the Congo government's preliminary reply to the report of Roger Casement, British consul in the Congo state, who in December, 1903, after completing a tour of investigation undertaken under the orders of the British government, fully confirmed the worst reports of outrages perpetrated on natives of that part of Africa.

Lord Lansdowne suggests the appointment of a special commission composed in part of persons not connected with the Congo state empowered to collect evidence and take measures for the protection of witnesses. If such a commission is appointed the British government would be prepared to place at its disposal all information respecting the affairs of the Congo and would give it every assistance, confidently believing that an independent commission would elicit the truth and effect a settlement.

Woman Held to Answer.

Chicago, June 9.—A coroner's jury returned an open verdict in the death of Louis Miller, the wealthy saloon-keeper, who died Monday after suffering with a bullet wound in his abdomen, and exonerated Mrs. Jennie Bailey, his fiancée, who was held in connection with Miller's death. No sooner had Mrs. Bailey been exonerated by the coroner's jury than a constable with a warrant charging her with murder, rearrested her. The warrant was taken out by a brother of the dead man.

Breaking Up Work of Touts.

New York, June 9.—Thirty professional touts or race-track tipsters were arrested at the entrance to the Gravesend track. It has been the practice of touts to crowd and push through the trains on the way to the races, soliciting passengers to purchase "tips" on horses on the day's racing card. The nuisance had grown to such dimensions that there is a general demand for its abatement.

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety. He cares nothing for the means to that end.

There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose bodies were bowed down by low cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians—"There is no cure possible."

Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what Mr. Moses Miles of Hilliard, Utah, Co., writes Mr. Pierce: "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it had helped her so much she insisted on my trying his 'Golden Medical Discovery'—which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 135 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.

ENROLLMENT

Of School Children is Not Satisfactory.

Figures compiled by State Superintendent F. A. Cotton for 1903 show that the increase in the enrollment in the schools of the state this year was far from being what it should be compared with the increase in population, which is reckoned at 1.4 per cent annually. The table was made from reports of the county superintendents, and in many cases the enrollment as given was so low that the state superintendent, fearing that a mistake had been made, sent the reports back for verification. In no case did the corrected reports show material change. State Superintendent Cotton can not account for the small increase.

The total number of pupils enrolled this year is 768,638 and in 1903 it was 767,436. The increase in 1902 over the preceding year was 5,635, more than four times the increase shown this year. The increase this year was only 1,202.

FORTUNE IN CAR FARES.

Enormous Figures Represent New York Street Railroad Business.

A report made public lately by the New York state railroad commission, regarding the number of passengers carried on the railways of Greater New York, is extremely interesting.

The report shows that for the year ending February 29, car lines in Manhattan alone carried 670,000,000 passengers, exclusive of transfers. This is 100,000,000 more passengers than the steam railroads of the United States carried in the same period. In Greater New York more than one billion passengers were transported during that time.

Transfers in Manhattan amounted to 166,000,000. The Union Railway carried in the year 21,000,000 passengers, an increase of 2,000,000. In the Bronx, on all railroads, the total number carried was 22,000,000, an increase of nearly 2,000,000.

In Brooklyn the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, which is operating the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system, carried 285,000,000 passengers, an increase of 25,000,000. Car mileage was 54,000,000. Transfers were 55,000,000.

By the Coney Island & Brooklyn Railroad Company 33,000,000 passengers were carried. The total number carried in Brooklyn on all lines was 320,000,000.

In the entire area included in Greater New York, the total of passengers on all the lines was 1,036,834,773, which means that the citizens of the metropolis spent last year very nearly $52,000,000 for being carried to points within the city limits.

KENTUCKIANS COMPROMISE

Temporizing Plan Adopted by Democrats in State Convention.

Louisville, June 9.—What promised to be a bitter contest for control of the state organization came up in the Democratic state convention, which met here yesterday afternoon. The result of the first struggle, the election of a temporary chairman, was a decisive victory for the administration forces led by Governor Beckham. Governor Beckham was elected temporary chairman by a vote of 817 to 322 over Judge Frank Peake of Shelby county. The fight against the administration was led by Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, assisted by Senator McCreary and Congressman D. H. Smith. The overwhelming vote for Governor Beckham for temporary chairman put his adherents in full control of the temporary organization.

Governor Beckham in his speech accepting the temporary chairmanship announced that the fight for the control of the party was not of his seeking. He denied Senator Blackburn's assertion that a machine and not the voters controlled the party, and sarcastically stated that of course no one believed Senator Blackburn in making his fight was seeking to build up a machine for himself.

The work of organizing the committees was rapidly proceeded with and the temporary organization having been completed, the convention took a recess until 7:30 o'clock. The first business before the convention at the evening session, the report of the committee on credentials, did not provoke the struggle that was expected, and the four contests passed upon received a unanimous report and were unanimously adopted.

There was a short but spirited debate in the committee on resolutions over the platform, five of the members demanding the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform. In order to prevent a contest on the floor of the convention a compromise was effected by adopting the following opening clause: "The Democratic party of Kentucky in convention assembled affirms its faith in and adherence to the great and fundamental principles of Democracy as expounded by Jefferson, exemplified by Jackson and ably defended by Bryan."

The resolutions condemn the so-called "unnecessary and unjust system of federal taxation maintained by the Republican administration," and demand a revision of the tariff in a conservative spirit. The increase of expenditures of the federal government under Republican rule is condemned and the encroachments by the president upon the constitution are denounced. The resolutions further favor regulation of trusts and recommend a thorough investigation of all federal departments on the ground that the refusal of the Republicans to permit further investigation of the postoffice department suggests hidden corruption. The course of Governor

Don't let Indiana "refusing to surrender on requisition from the governor of Kentucky the persons of Wm. S. Taylor and Charles Finley, fugitives from justice, charged with the murder of William Goebel" is denounced as a violation of the constitution. The resolutions call for an unrestricted delegation to the national convention, but the delegates are required to vote as a unit.

No Hopes of a Quorum.

Havana, June 9.—A conference of moderate senators and members of congress has decided to abandon efforts to secure a quorum of the house and to appeal to the country with the object of organizing a distinctive moderate party broad enough to include independents and moderately inclined liberals. The moderates will endeavor to win over at least five members of congress of the independent and moderately inclined liberals so as to obtain a quorum should a special session be called before the regular session in November.

Triumph of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering with injuries entail. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

JAPS SHIPS LOST.

Says a Report From St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—The Liao Yang correspondent of Russ wires that a minor naval fight occurred in the Gulf of Pechili yesterday, in which one Japanese battle ship was sunk. The correspondent adds the Chinese from the south say Japanese attacked Port Arthur, on what day is not specified, and were repulsed, with a loss of 3500 men and four war vessels, probably torpedo boats.

On June 7 the Japanese are reported to have bombarded the coast between Kwan-Tung and Zeng-Chen. There were no casualties, though many shells were burst.

CONDUCTOR THOS. KELSO.

Popular Railroad Man Died at Cincinnati Wednesday Night.

Conductor Thos. Kelso, a former resident of this city, died at his home in Cincinnati about 1:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The news of his death came as a shock to his many friends in this city.

He took sick last Sunday night as he came out from Cincinnati and had to be relieved at North Vernon. He was taken back to his home in Cincinnati that same morning on No. 12 and has been there since. None of his friends knew that his condition was so critical. His age was about forty seven years. He was the son of Conductor Steve Kelso. Engineer Albert Evans, of this city, is a brother-in-law, and he and Mrs. Evans left for Cincinnati this morning.

Thos. Kelso belonged to a family of railroaders and he was one of the most popular trainmen on the B. & O. S-W. He had been railroading for more than twenty-five years and he had many friends all along the line. He formerly lived in this city, but when his run was changed to the Louisville branch he moved to North Vernon. Recently when he was put on the main line he moved to Cincinnati.

Arrangements for the funeral and burial had not been learned here up to 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Indiana at Shiloh.

Capt. Thomas B. Wood of Frankfort, president of the Shiloh commission, conferred with Gov. Durbin this week relative to the book to be published giving a history of the movements of Indiana regiments in the engagement.

The state of Ohio has published a book similar to the one contemplated by the Indiana commission, which has completed its work of marking the maneuvers of the Indiana troops at Shiloh.

Road Petitions.

Before the county commissioners a petition was presented by Levi Kelley, et al, to vacate a public highway in Grassy Fork township, and Ludwig Ernst, Henry and John H. Mahan were appointed viewers.

A petition was also presented by Jas. W. Bedel, et al, for vacating a public highway and opening a new highway in Vernon township, and J. F. W. Tormohlen, J. W. Fleener and John Waskom were appointed viewers.

Squirrels Protected Now.

Z. T. Sweeney, state fish and game commissioner, says that a number of people may get into trouble on account of the publication in the Indianapolis Morning Star stating that the squirrel law would be out on the first of July. The law is not out until the first of August and persons found hunting before that time are liable to arrest. The law constitutes each road supervisor a constable and gives him power to arrest any violator of the law.—Columbus Republican.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coachella, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by C. W. Milhous.

Free Advice to Those Who Suffer With Headache.

Authorities differ somewhat as to the various causes of headaches and that per cent of humanity who have headaches by reason of eye strain.

MANY A WOMAN

Whose system is depleted, broken down by the manifold cares which come to a mother—suffers day in and day out from headaches as the result of only a small amount of eye strain, which could be easily overcome, without unpleasant symptoms, if the sufferer's physical condition was normal or better.

BECAUSE YOU SEE WELL

is no criterion that your headaches are not due to Eye-Strain. It is the constant effort to see which causes headaches. At any rate we make examinations free, and will be truthful with you, so you may know, without expense, if your eyes are the cause. Mr. and Mrs. Harsch, Opto-metrists.

Young Girl a Victim.

Another victim of the terrible epidemic of typhoid fever that is sweeping over Indianapolis, Emma Shepman, age 18, a beautiful young woman employed in this city, died at her home in Seymour Tuesday.

Miss Shepman until a short time ago was employed as a stenographer at Fahley & McCrea's millinery house, but when she was seized with the fever her sister took her home.

The funeral will be held at Seymour to-day and many Indianapolis friends will attend.—Indianapolis Star.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

CHICAGO, Ill., June, 9, 1904.—Fair tonight and Friday.

Rev. B. L. Allen, of Indianapolis, who spoke at the Central Christian church last night, was heard with much interest by a good crowd.

FOOL PROOF and FIRE PROOF.

Why do you continue paying large light bills? We can save you 50 per cent. of your present light bills and give you 1,000 per cent. more light. These are broad claims, but nevertheless they are facts. We can furnish light any place and as much of it as you want. Call at our store and investigate this wonderful lighting system. Agents for Jackson county.

TESTIMONIAL.

MESSRS. WATSON & CO., Indianapolis, Ind., Agents. March 1, 1904. Dear Sirs:—Replying to your query as to whether I am pleased with the F. P. lighting system which you installed for me fifteen months ago, I will say that it has never given us one minute's trouble nor one dollar's expense. It gives the best light I ever saw for interior use. The electric rays are of such a character as to make it very desirable when the perfectly natural colors of objects are to be distinguished without confusion.

As to cost of maintenance, I think my experience, based upon close observation, will warrant the statement that it is under $80 per annum, and our store is open every day in the year until 11 o'clock p. m., except on Sunday, one hour less. Under the same condition, and with the most approved facilities for the distribution of light, our bills for illuminating gas were about $200 per year, and for electric light (arcs) about $400 to $420 per annum, and at no time have we had more than one-half the light we now have.

I am particularly pleased with the light, and the fact that it is so economical makes it the more desirable.

As you can readily figure, I paid for my apparatus and cost of light in about four or five months. Yours truly, R. I. EADS.
